FIRE WEDNESDAY

Barn Used by Coal Company Destroyed by Flames Yesterday.

The barn at the rear of the Walker residence, 213 Park avenue, was totally destroyed by flames shortly after noon yesterday, and another barn at the rear of the property at 219, was badly damaged by the blaze.

The large barn on the Walker property, which had been used by the Little Rock Coal company, was a mass of flames when the fire department reached the scene and the other barn had started to blaze, as had one corner of the Walker residence.

There was no chance for the department to save the one barn, so the water was quickly turned on to the residence, where the fire was just beginning to gain a foothold, and when this blaze was extinguished the water was turned on the other barn. This fire was soon extinguished and then the efforts of the department were bent on the extinguishing of the fire which was rapidly destroying the coal company's barn. The barn was only a heap of smoldering ruins by this time and the department speedily quelled all signs of the fire.

A Home—The Best "Buy" on the Market

You have a dollar.
I have a dollar.
Each contains 100 cents.
You invest your dollar in food and clothing. I invest my dollar in building materials.
Food and clothing have gone up twice as high as lumber and building materials.

Therefore, I get twice as much for my dollar as you get for your dollar.
That is why we say, a home is the best "buy" on the market. Building costs, if measured in terms of the new standard, are lower now than before the war.
Come in and we'll show you how easy it is to build with our help.
